

Life lessons learned from being an exchange student

by Jelena Jovkic

*University of Belgrade, Technical faculty in Bor
Serbia*

- ✓ Erasmus programme was excellent opportunity to meet various groups of young people, spend quality time with them and get to know their habits, attitudes, lifestyle...
- ✓ Living, studying in different environment and cooperate with international scholars broaden my horizons and enable me to build strong social network with people through our continent.
- ✓ I had the best 4 months of my life.

I am so truly thankful for this experience, it has changed me forever. Appreciate life, embrace what you have, and accept that this is your life, and you are the one to change it.

Being an exchange student, and living in a different country for a while has opened my eyes. I learn a different language, I learn other traditions, and cultures. I learn to accept, and to be respected. I learn to be responsible, and to be careful. I learn to be friendly, and to be polite. Most of all, I learn how to live on my own. It was the first time for me to go elsewhere and live on my own. I probably learned my best "life lesson".

Now, I am a very open person, one who enjoys learning from other cultures, challenging myself with new experiences. Before doing this, I felt just like a standard student in my faculty. But things change. And to make thing change we have to risk, to jump in to the dark and see what happen.

After four months, I have found a hand full of good friends, who I can trust, and I have gotten to know even more people.

"Life is a challenge, meet it." (Mother Teresa)

On the top of the world

With Albanian friend

With Turkish friends

Serbia & Albania

Bor in Budapest